Dear Jim,

5/9/77

There are what I regard as two dead giveaways in the New Times Sprague interview in today's mail. New Times dated 5/13.

One is that without investigation and without regard to the physical evidence Sprague says Jimmy pulled the trigger.

The other is that because Sprague is gone the critics of the Warren Commission will have ten years more of life. (For which gift I thank him.)

Without the preconcpetion of WC correctness there is no sense in this.

If these people talk enough they give themselves away.

But you might want to tell Jimmy what Sprague said.

I did before Sprague said it but he would not listen to me.

I see nothing wrong with sending Kershaw a copy.

Unless you think I'd enjoy it.

Best,
